Stop Fighting the Remodel: API Design for Models That Outgrew Their Boundaries

Monday Nov 16

Every domain model has a breaking point. At Netflix, ours arrived all at once—Ads, Games, Live events, and entirely new kinds of content. Each pulled the core entities in different, sometimes contradictory directions.

Staff Engineer @Netflix

No New Backend: The API Layer Behind 800+ Agent-Built Apps at Duolingo

Monday Nov 16

At Duolingo, anyone (engineer or not) can describe an internal tool and get a working app back, deployed against real company systems. That's BuildingHub, and 350 Duolingo employees have created at least one app with it.

Sarah Deitke

Senior Software Engineer @Duolingo

Saturation: How Your Software Will Fail at Scale

Monday Nov 16

Even in the ethereal world of software, everything has a limit. And, once that limit is reached, very bad things can happen. In this talk, we will explore the problem of saturation: when a software system runs into one of these limits.

The Schema Was Never Enough: The World in Protocols

Monday Nov 16

Every reliable process in the world is a protocol: auctions, double-entry bookkeeping, brokerage account transfers, or APIs. Protocols reduce ambiguity but the world remains messy.

Breaking Down the Walls to Python & Big Data + AI Performance with Transpilation and LLMs

Tuesday Nov 17

Many of us have a love hate relationship with Apache Spark, especially when it comes to PySpark. Especially in Python, the UDF performance can be a dumpster fire.
